DICK TRACY

CHESTER GOULD

WE'RE ALMOST AT THE SPOT.

CRIMESTOPPERS' TEXTBOOK

MOST LAUNDRY MARKS TODAY ARE MADE WITH AN INVISIBLE INDELIBLE INK THAT CAN BE SEEN ONLY UNDER AN ULTRAVIOLET LIGHT.

THE FINDING OF THE SHRUNKEN HEAD BY THE FISHERMEN HAS BROUGHT DICK TRACY AND THE RIVER PATROL TO THE SCENE.

YES, I HOOKED IT RIGHT ABOUT HERE.

WE'LL CONTINUE UPSTREAM ALONG THIS BANK, THEN COME DOWN ON THE OTHER.

MEANWHILE, BLOWTOP HAS MANAGED TO TWIST AND BREAK THE RUSTY WIRE WITH WHICH VITAMIN BOUND HIS WRISTS AND—

THE FIRST ORDER OF BUSINESS IS THIS—

THEY MAY GET ME, FLINTHEART, BUT THEY'LL NEVER FIND YOU.

THE BOAT ROUNDS A POINT. A SHOT! AND THERE'S A GUY FLOUNDERING IN THE RIVER.

AND THERE'S OUR MAN! THAT'S BLOWTOP!

IT'S FLINTHEART!

PULL HIM IN WHILE I GET BLOWTOP!

YANKING THE WIRE FROM HIS ANKLES, BLOWTOP RACES TO THE TOP OF THE RIVER BANK.

RUN HER RIGHT UP ON SHORE.

A FIELD OF KNEE-HIGH CORN OFFERS LITTLE COVER. HIS AMMUNITION IS GONE. A FIELD OF WAIST-HIGH OATS PROMISES BETTER PROTECTION, BUT BETWEEN IT AND HIM IS A WOVEN WIRE FENCE.

A THOMPSON SUBMACHINE GUN SLUG CREASES HIS SKULL. HE TOPPLES FORWARD.

HANDS AND ARMS POKE THROUGH THE MESH OF THE FENCE AS HE FALLS UNCONSCIOUS.

FIVE MINUTES LATER.

HOW'S FLINTHEART? SHOULDERS AND ARM WOUNDS, TRACY. WHERE'S BLOWTOP?

"NEATLY HANDCUFFED TO 300 RODS OF WOVEN WIRE FENCE! RADIO FOR AN AMBULANCE, SAM."

Little Orphan Annie

TIME GOES, YOU SAY? AH, NO! ALAS, TIME STAYS, WE GO! BUT IF WE ARE LIKE WARBUCKS, WE'LL BE BACK AGAIN—HE ALWAYS COMES BACK!

WOW! MUST BE FIVE THOUSAND FEET—STRAIGHT DOWN!

AH! HERE WE ARE—JUST REMEMBERED IT!

LEAPIN' LIZARDS! A TOWN! STORES AN' HOUSES AN' A HOTEL! BUT THAT ROAD DIDN'T LOOK AS IF IT HAD BEEN USED FOR YEARS!

IT HASN'T—

BUT I DON'T SEE A SOUL IN SIGHT ANYWHERE! WHO LIVES HERE?

NOSODY! IT'S A GHOST TOWN, ANNIE—

A GHOST TOWN? REAL GHOSTS? BUT TH' HOUSES LOOK SO REAL!

OH, THE BUILDINGS ARE REAL ENOUGH—IT'S AN OLD MINING TOWN—ABANDONED LONG AGO—

SHALL WE GO INTO THE HOTEL? GUESS YOU CAN GO IN THROUGH THE BAR—NOBODY'LL MIND—

DID YOU SAY YOU WERE HERE WHEN YOU WERE JUST A YOUNG FELLOW?

YEP! MADE MY FIRST REAL MONEY IN THE MINES HERE—I'VE CHANGED A LOT SINCE—BUT NOTHING HERE SEEMS TO HAVE CHANGED AT ALL—

BUT IT'S SO STILL! LIKE A DEAD TOWN!

FREEZE RIGHT WHAR YARE, DODNER! I GOT Y' KIVERED! HEH! HEH! HEH! NO NEED TO GIT SCARED, YOUNG'UN!

HM-M—LIGHTEN LEM! I'D KNOW THAT VOICE ANYWHERE!

EH? TURN AROUND, DUDE, SO'S I KIH GIT A LOOK ATCHA—EVEN YOU'RE A BADGE-TOTTIN' SNOOPIN' SHERIFF—WAL, YUH AST FER IT—

HA-HA! LEM, YOU HAVEN'T CHANGED A BIT IN FORTY YEARS!

WARBUCKS! OLLIE WARBUCKS! YUH COME BACK! WHY DANG YORE OLD WALRUS HIDE! TO THINK I'D EVER DRAW ON MY BEST PAL—

STILL FASTEST MAN WITH A SIX GUN WEST O' TH' PECOS, I SEE!

NOT WHEN YOU'RE WEST O' TH' PECOS, OLLIE! AND I NEVER WAS! BUT WHAT YOU ADDIN' HERE?

FIRST TELL ME WHAT YOU'RE DOING IN THIS GHOST TOWN—YOU'RE NO GHOST!

IT'S A LONG YARN—AN' ONLY 'BOUT HALF TRUE—C'MON, YOU TWO! M'WIFE SARAH'S WAITIN' DINNER FER US—YOU REMEMBER SARAH?

I SURE DO! SIERRA SARAH—MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN THE WEST! WHY, YOU LUCKY DOG!

HAROLD GRAY

Gasoline Alley

LOOK, PHYLLIS! OUR OLD FRIEND SQUINT IS RUNNING A DUDE RANCH IN ARIZONA!

WE HAVEN'T HEARD ABOUT HIM IN YEARS!

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO SPEND A VACATION THERE?

WE'RE PAST THAT, WALT. WE LIKE OUR CREATURE COMFORTS TOO WELL.

IT'S TOO STRENUOUS FOR US, I'M AFRAID. BUT SKEEZIX SHOULD KNOW ABOUT IT.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THIS, SON?

BLACK MESA DUDE RANCH—AND THE PROPRIETOR—SQUINT!

THOUGHT YOU MIGHT WANT A VACATION SUGGESTION.

BOY, THAT WOULD BE SWELL, UNCLE WALT!

HOW WOULD A DUDE RANCH VACATION OFF ON THE DESERT HIT YOU, NINA?

WHERE DID YOU GET A CRAZY IDEA LIKE THAT, SKEEZIX?

I DON'T THINK IT'S SO CRAZY! I'M FOR IT!

AND I'VE GOT THE OUTFIT—PACKED AWAY SOMEWHERE.

I'LL GET DOLLED UP AND SHOW THE FOLKS.

CHIPPER! WHAT'S THE MATTER?

DADDY'S GOT MY COWBOY SUIT ON AN' I WANT IT!

Bulletin Office Turns Nursery For Personal Judging of Babies

Movie-version newspaper offices are ring-dingers for excitement and "dangerous living."

Edmonton Bulletin office was a runner up for this glamor version when 100 babies and their proud parents took part in the final judging of the annual Best Baby Contest recently.

Final judging took place in the Bulletin office June 12 and results of the baby parade were announced June 19.

Many famous babies' names stole the hearts of the judges and the title of Best Edmonton Baby landed on Judy Lynn Clayton was crowned queen of the kiddies in the Northern Alberta division of the contest.

TRIO OF JUDGES

Judges were Alberta Child Welfare superintendent C. B. Hill, Mrs. J. L. Hollingshead, Local Council of Women president, and Mrs. Clara Van Dusen, registrar of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses.

Mr. Hill acted as chairman . . . and incidentally loved every minute of the laugh-provoking baby parade.

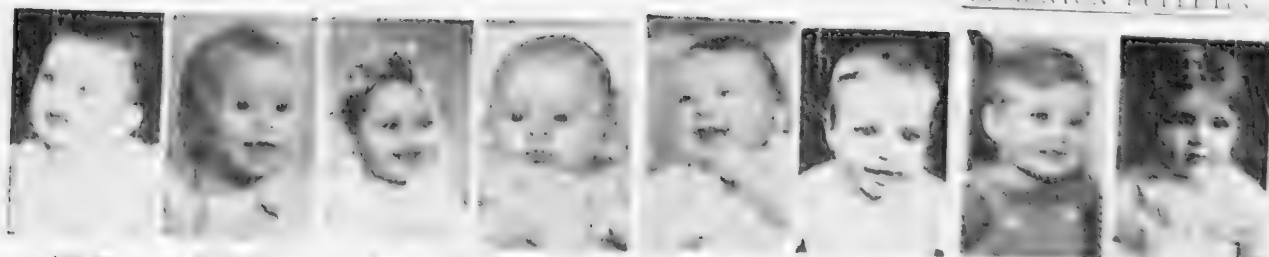

Proud moms and even prouder dads appeared at the newspaper office with competing offspring in tow. Cutly-headed babies, blue-eyed babies, sun-kissed babies, laughing babies and "truly-cut" babies lined the scented walls of the room.

Much discussion of possible accidents and misadventures took place before the arrival of the babies. But for no reason.

SMOOTH AS SILK

All went well.

Mothers were invited to bring the tiny glamour tots to the Bulletin office between 2 and 4 p.m. Judging would continue to 5 p.m. And that's exactly what happened. Children arrived steadily during the afternoon to be judged later at a time on a 30-point system.

Forcing Food on Children Develops Poor Eating Habits

Children have as much right as adults to refuse a meal, and even if they ignore good, simple food, they should not be forced to eat.

According to Dr. Josephine H. Kenyon, baby clinic director, forcing a child to eat when they are spurning in growth, builds up a resistance to eating, she says, they eat less, and develops poor eating habits. Dr. Kenyon explains that a child won't force food on him if he has had a good meal just before. Instead of forcing a child to eat, other reasons might be that the child is overfed or sick.

According to this expert, a child's refusal of food becomes a medical problem only if he continues to have a poor appetite and loses weight. In these all cases, the child will eat when he is hungry and healthy.

BATH baby's head two or three times a week only, using mild soapy water.

AT this time his baby will be able to sit up in a sitting position and roll over on the back. Thumbs will be used to pick up and hold things. At this stage you won't be wasting your time if you try to teach the baby to play games.

How to Find Your Favorite Baby in This Album

Top winners in the 1950 Baby Contest are pictured on pages 1, 3, 4 and 5. Other babies entered are shown on pages that follow. Babies are listed alphabetically, according to their parents' names. Babies' given names are in bold type directly under their pictures.

BOYNTON, Okla.—(UPI)—Francis Elizabeth Kirby, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kirby, is the first girl born in her family in 123 years.

Lawn-mowing now can be made easier without too much cost. The American Magazine says there is available a small power attachment that clamps on to any hand mower in about three minutes with the aid of a pair of pliers.

Milkmaid Collects

CHEHALIS, Wash.—A trucker crashed through a fence and into a barn on which Mrs. Alice Peterson was leaning a cow. The frightened cow lunged, injuring Mrs. Peterson. A jury awarded her $5,000 damages and $100 damages to the trucker.

The first British Industries Fair was held in 1945.

Babies are not appreciated by baby and three months have gone by and the baby is not able to swing his arms under his own steam and sometimes the noise of a rattle irritates or confuses.

If you can find them, there is nothing more absorbing to a baby than a rattle. The first British Industries Fair was held in 1945.

Sounds Bad

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The Rev. F. A. Wilson, a two children were in the Reform school, but the pastor goes out and mentioning it. He was to be pastor of the Baptist church.

*Birth Day Bugaboos Fall
By Psychological Wayside*

Monday's child is full of woe.
Tuesday's child is full of grief.
Wednesday's child is loving and giving,
Thursday's child works hard for a living,
Friday's child is full of woe,
Saturday's child has far to go,
But the child that is born on the Sabbath Day
Is brave and bonny, good and gay.

Happily we have grown up since this jingle was in fashion.

When we were going out to get Member and was leaving the building I was told that a woman had a letter written to the Member in connection with the woman who had been in the building and was in the building.

Parents who take toddlers with a smile and inspire love and confidence will raise the sort of people who make the world still	in constant use for at least 24 years. Best of all, it cost only $100.
---	---

All too often the fear of mortality can ruin a life. Pursue it. Get on with the task of living and see that your child leaves the most of himself.

WENER'S

The first step was to identify the key components of the system. This involved a thorough review of the existing literature and a consultation with experts in the field. The next step was to design the architecture of the system, which included defining the data flow and the roles of the various components. Finally, the system was implemented and tested, with results showing significant improvements in performance compared to the baseline.

Red pillows may be aired either by hanging upon a clothesline or by spreading upon a clean sheet upon the ground.

A chaise seat should be shaken out the same length weekly to keep the springs from settling in the box.

Spread it liberally upon and around the gun.

After three or four minutes, prod the gun once with a screwdriver, and turn it over.

Repeat the same process if the gun is used the next time.

Useful Furniture Appears On Market for Children

NEW YORK—(UP)—Children's furniture that gets away from "cute" decorations is the aim of Robert Limpus, designer of a new line of furniture for growing youngsters. "Too many people think you have to put a lot of cute decorations before its gets into production. It's not on children's furniture," he explained in his combination apartment and design shop. "Children are individuals. They deserve more respect."

The first six pieces of his new line at the paint table, and Limpus have just gone into production. There is a straight chair with simple lines and a webbed back, which comes in two sizes. Then there's a rocking chair, a combination desk and paint table, a clever, square table and a couch bed. "We set the price first, then worked for two years to design furniture which could sell for that price," he explained. The straight chair, for example, will sell for under $1. The furniture is made from maple or birch, with a clear lacquer finish. It comes in a flat package, although Limpus doesn't like it called "knock-down" furniture.

NEW DESK PROJECTED
The couch bed has two storage drawers that slide out from the side. A combination desk and storage unit is the next item on Limpus' production line. He hopes to design a desk that will last a child through the growing years and serve as a study table.

SIMPLE TO ASSEMBLE
The webbing already is attached to the chair, and the desk is designed to be attached to the wall. Screws are required to attach the chair seat to the cross-lap leg construction. Simple cap nuts connect the headboard to either end of the couch bed, and four machine screws wall or the back of a door will attach the legs.

The furniture is family tested. The blackboard is set into the back of the couch bed.

Sitter Situation Keeps Parents at Home Firesides

Baby-sitter problem is high on the list of family troubles these fast-paced days. Mom and Pop like to go upon the town now and again. But they don't feel free to go unless Junior is left in a dependable, capable hands.

An expert on child welfare states a good baby sitter should be gentle and should have some judgement and experience with babies.

As often as possible a sitter should be a member of a bureau or association which can vouch for her character.

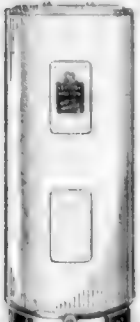

Toothless Ostriches

Ostriches must eat large rough objects to digest their food. Birds have no teeth, so grind their food with grit, but where small birds do the trick with sand and gravel, the ostrich swallows enormous stones.

the door front, which lets down to form a desk, with space behind to hold pencils, scissors, crayons and paper.

Within the next year, Limpus hopes to have his designs in stores in all leading cities. He figures it's time to clean up with furniture scaled to their sizes and their needs.

Today's Babies Lead Gay Lives

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—With pastel-colored foam rubber pillows and soft dolls, today's babies can lead a gay life.

They come in "rosebud pink, baby blue and dainty maize."

Chicopee Mills, the manufacturers, claim the colors are as safe for baby as the traditional white.

A new baby pillow made from foam latex is just appearing in the stores to dress up the crib. Pediatricians generally advise against ed for a child from the age of two on.

It is made of snowy white latex with a zippered cover of washable satin in various pastel colors. Both cover and pillow are washable. The Dayton Rubber Co. added a soft plastic covering, too, to protect the pillow when it's not in use.

Britain has 80 gliding schools with more than 700 instructors.

CONVENIENT AND SAFE TO USE

No other washer combines the extra safety features of this 1950 Westinghouse! Safe for you... because of the exclusive "Sentinel of Safety" that prevents "blown" fuses, protects the motor against overload and allows you to turn the washer on or off safely, even with wet hands. Safe because of the Lovell "Feather-touch" Safety Release Wringer that releases instantly regardless of pressure. Safe for your clothes because of exclusive "Cushioned Action." And the Westinghouse reputation makes it a really safe investment.

BUSY NURSE

Mrs. Jane Hutton, national means, stood guard to guard any baby from attending to anything else and excitement took them.

Not a single widgeo whimpered, cried or caused any confusion. A more model hundred babies couldn't be found.

Judging was based on personal beauty and healthy appearance. Each judge contained a separate sheet allowing for points for each phase. These were totalled and compared at the close of proceedings.

Job of judging in the Northern Alberta division was as hard if not harder.

PICTURE PARADE

Picture parade was held in the evening. The judges were recommended by the panel of judges and winners were picked in this way.

Two sets of twins were judged separately in the Edmonton division.

Functional Furniture Best for Baby

Look over tomorrow's Edmonton Bulletin when you buy new furniture for the nursery.

In no time flat, Baby will become Junior; then miniature adults and wee cribs become as common as they are extravagant. Functional furniture, with no sharp corners or dust harboring ornament, is the wise choice.

Decorating baby's room can be fun, and often little expense is involved.

Be original in your color scheme. Pink and blue are traditional and nice fresh colors, but why not the equally dainty, equally fresh . . . pure yellow.

It brings sunshine into a room on even dullest days and is a happy choice. Be sure to check your paint thoroughly for lead content. Babies have been known to take the edge of their appetites by chewing furniture.

If you are one of those fortunates who treasure an heirloom cradle or other lovely pieces of rosewood or mahogany, by all means play up the period. Insist on fabrics and rugs that take kindly to the washing machine.

No other room in the house presents the challenge and decorating enjoyment that the nursery does. Have firm ideas, use common sense and keep it simple.

Above all, keep it spotlessly clean, and your baby will come to know and love his room as much as you do.

Over-Demanding Causes Nervousness

It's possible stuttering began when your child tried to speak like the older ones around him.

It turned out to be too much of a load. If you demand a lot from him and set impossibly high standards, he may find trouble in this hard business of learning to speak. When a child is making fast progress in talking, why complicate things by making a show of it in having him recite nursery rhymes and jingles. Don't urge him to say long words or show amusement when he makes mistakes in pronunciation.

Anxiety Increases Nervous Tension

If your child stutters—ignore the stuttering itself and for the time being accept your child's speech as normal.

Above all do your best to prevent him from becoming anxious about his speech. Remember that your anxiety is readily felt by him.

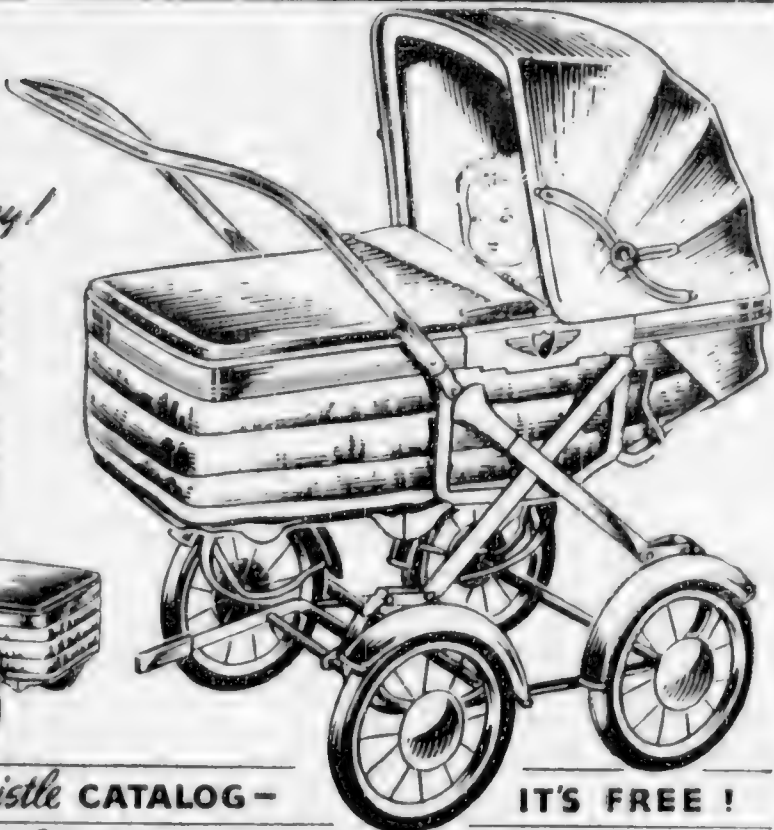

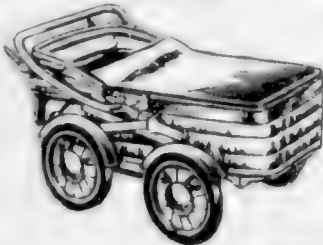

If you are upset, or show pity he'll react with more hesitation and stuttering.

As a result of the above, the following is suggested as a possible explanation for the observed differences in the α - and β -relaxations of the two polymers. The α -relaxation of the polyimide is due to the motion of the polymer backbone, whereas the β -relaxation is due to the motion of the side chain. In the case of the polyimide, the side chain is relatively short and rigid, and the β -relaxation is therefore relatively weak. In the case of the polyimide, the side chain is relatively long and flexible, and the β -relaxation is therefore relatively strong.

NIGHTMERS! For baby's sake... take time to read these facts.

The more you know about Baby Foods the better for your child's health... that is why it is important for you to learn about Heinz 4-way protection.

① Heinz Quality Is Controlled From Seed to Kitchen

Every step in the preparation of Heinz Baby Foods is rigidly controlled. Heinz even distributes special seeds to selected farmers whose soil is known to produce the best vegetables . . . Their crops, grown under careful supervision, are harvested, then processed in the Heinz kitchens, located right in the midst of rich farming areas . . . As the foods are cooked their quality is checked regularly by modern scientific methods.

② Heinz Quality is Safeguarded
By Special, Enamel-Lined Tins

For your baby's protection Heinz has developed special baby-food containers : : . Heinz tins are air-tight and light-proof so that vitamins, freshness, flavour and colour will not be lost. Three different kinds of enamel are used to line the cans, depending upon the variety being packed, each of which has been shown by scientific test to do a special job of preserving food value.

③ Heinz Quality Is Maintained
On Your Dealer's Shelf

Every Heinz tin carries a code number showing when it was packed : : : Heinz salesmen check these numbers when they visit stores, to be certain that the supplies in stock are always fresh : : : Heinz takes this special precaution to make doubly sure your baby will get foods of choice quality that is so important in baby diets.

41 Heinz Quality is Backed
By 41 Years of Experience

Major League Ball Teams Worried By Military Draft

NEW YORK, July 8.—(AP)—How will the United States military draft affect baseball?

Nobody knows for sure but the black headlines in the papers were the subject of discussion in most major league dugouts today.

Approximately 125 per cent or about 100 of the 400 in the major league player pool are within the through-35 age limit. Most however, are Second World War veterans, exempt from the draft by law.

The minor, of course, are a different problem. Most of their players fit into the through-35 pattern. Any extensive use of the draft could force a talent shortage.

Upland took the second hit, in which Dudley Hanover was disqualified when his driver—P. Finckle—was thrown from the seat. Finckle did not finish the heat.

The third heat was won by Dudley Hanover, with Irish Hal a late scratch. A fourth heat was ordered but, before it was started, Upland was scratched, leaving Dudley Hanover the winner.

Normally, the winners of each of the first three heats would require for the fourth and deciding heat.

Harvard Wins Henley Cup

ENGLAND, July 8.—(CP)—Harvard won the Henley Regatta today, beating the British crew for rowing eight, handily defeating a strong Dutch entry by the length.

Harvard's victory was over the Njord Hailing Club of Leiden University.

The heavier American crew, rowing against a head wind, finished the 2,000-yard course in seven minutes 23 seconds.

Britain regained the Henley title which the American held, Jack Kelly of Philadelphia.

Anthony Rose defeated Robert Van Moseley of Hertsford, England, in the 100-yard race.

Commies Mass For Big Drive

From HUP and AP Despatches
TOKYO, Sunday, July 9.—A powerful Communist thrust forced American troops to abandon the strategic rail center of Chonan, north of Taejon today. Other strong North Korean forces were moving up for a renewal of the general offensive.

The key transport hub along the jagged fighting front less than 40 miles north of the provincial capital fell to the Communist armor after a bloody battle of almost 20 hours.

The North Koreans are massing along a line stretching some 60 miles across the western part of South Korea.

The concentration, observed by aerial reconnaissance, extends from Pongtack, about 15 miles south of Seoul, northeast of Wonsu in the center of the peninsula.

Despatches from the sector where the U.S. Army was massing in might for a showdown struggle and the Americans fled Chonan, rallied later and went back to beat off repeated attacks, then finally withdrew.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a summary of the first two weeks of the Korean war, reported that all along the battle area north of Taejon the North Koreans were "massing troops in forward areas in preparation for a renewed offensive."

American bombers and fighters slugged away at the North Korean troops, tanks and guns moving toward the front through the rear areas. MacArthur's command reported that freight trains and truck convoys moving south definitely were reported slowing down under the punishing blows.

Forty to 60 Communist tanks and more than 1,000 troops were pushing across the Anmang river, between Pongtack and Chonan, and heading toward Seoul, some 80 miles north of Chonan, toward the front.

Another convoy advancing toward the front from the Kumyang area, 35 miles northwest of Pongtack, included 40 T-34 tanks and heavy truck-drawn guns resembling the American 155-millimeter "Long Tom."

U.S. air action reported an "intensive" enemy buildup of men and armor along the 50-mile sector between Pongtack and Wonsu.

Envelopment Attempt

The massing of two divisions at Taejon, the summary said, and southeast of Wonsu, 40 miles north of Chonan, was "a move to envelop the American forces in the rear."

Entirely Reasonable

The last conceivable basis for objection to the Detroit "Miracle Mile" agreement has been removed with the consent of the First New Amsterdam Corporation to the changes proposed by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and members of the city council.

Based on the admirably clear and concise report by Dean Andrew Stewart, three recommendations were made by the Chamber. These were:

1. A recapture clause which would permit the city to purchase the development should such a course be in the best interests of the city.

2. A general default clause which would bring the agreement to a close in case of any breach of the agreement.

3. A general arbitration clause to provide for arbitration in the event of any dispute between the parties to the agreement.

Dean Stewart suggested these changes not as essential to the agreement, but as desirable additions to it.

The First New Amsterdam Corporation has informed the Chamber of Commerce by telephone that the two final changes are quite agreeable to its members and that a proposed recapture clause is in the mails.

Other changes, suggested by the council, are also acceptable to the corporation. This eminently reasonable attitude on the part of Mr. Detweiler's New York associates will commend itself to Edmonton people as a sincere effort to give this city the fairest and best possible deal.

There could be no evidence more convincing of the Corporation's good faith. Every objection officially made to the agreement has been satisfactorily met and any further opposition can be considered as having merely nuisance value designed to defeat the project by delay and confusion.

It is possible that further red herrings may be dragged into the picture by interested parties. In this connection it is interesting to note one clause in Dean Stewart's report:

"It is doubtful if sufficient private capital could be raised to finance so significantly less favorable to investors than those provided in the proposed agreement. It appears to us significant that during the six months since negotiations started, no alternative proposals for private financing have been made to the city."

With this situation in mind, a further clause in Dean Stewart's report stressing the urgent need for an immediate decision should be considered seriously by the city council.

New Trial for Marshal Pétain

From the standpoint of justice, the news that a new trial has been ordered for Marshal Pétain is good news.

Few doubt that Pétain collaborated in a guilty fashion with the Nazis and that he got what he deserved.

But a new trial will open up for consideration a great deal more than Pétain's guilt or innocence. It will permit a review, in fair perspective, of an entire period in French history which is regarded as a dark period and which was judged, as Pétain was judged, in the heat and prejudice of immediate post-war days.

This new trial is more than an act of justice for an individual. It is an act of justice for a generation of French people.

'Forsook All and Followed Him'

Few passages in the New Testament have generated more and dramatic debate than that which deals of the enmeshment of Peter and Jesus in the garden of Gethsemane.

As Christ was proceeding to the temple on the night of the Passover, Peter followed him. When they had stepped into one of the two feeding places and Jesus said that they had come to the temple, Peter said: "I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest."

From that moment on, Peter followed Jesus to the temple, to the garden, to the trial, to the crucifixion, and to the resurrection.

They went down to the garden, and Jesus said to Peter: "Thou art Peter, and upon thee I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against thee."

Now these words belonged to Simon Peter and James and John and they were not spoken at the temple and Simon Peter did not follow Jesus.

"And Jesus said unto Simon, Peter, thou hast confessed that thou art Christ's son. And thou shalt be called Peter, and upon thee I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against thee."

This tremendous statement was made moving in its account of the miracle. It is significant of the impetuous nature of Peter that he should at once acknowledge Jesus as Lord.

It was an astounding thing that Jesus said when he told these three that they would become fishers of men.

But the most important part of the whole story lies in the last six words: "I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest." They forsake all, and followed Him.

The two ships and the nets and the equipment were the living of these three men, but they were not the living of Jesus.

But such was the divine appeal of Jesus that they left the ships lying on the shore and followed Him on the road that led to the cross.

Now this statement is not a wonderful thing to say because it is the statement of a man who is not a man, but a God.

It is a wonderful thing, because it is the statement of a man who is not a man, but a God.

In modern days, those to whom comes the word of God, do not leave their ships lying on the shore nor cast aside the implements of their trade nor begin a pilgrimage that begins in Galilee and ends at Calvary.

But they do leave their earthly aims and ambitions lying on the shore and they do leave their ships and their nets and their equipment lying on the shore.

There is no other road for redemption. There is no other way to life. There is no other way to life.

There is no other way to life. There is no other way to life. There is no other way to life.

Calgary Trailer Camp Hides Shacks

CALGARY.—In the cities the trailer camps, "tent" camps, as they like to call them, fling together a lot of misfits and drifters.

The trailer camps are full of people who are looking for a better life. Some are looking for a better life, some are looking for a better life.

Some of these caravans are splendid homes, representing an investment of up to $8,000 and $10,000. There's one near us now that's the last word in trailer camps.

Further back out of sight from the road, hidden by the washrooms and laundry, there's a kind of hobo "jungle" where families live in abject poverty.

These trailers are in a manner that stinks and adds to the misery of the people.

These people are from all over the country. Many of them are young couples who have lost their jobs and hard luck have put them on the streets.

They're an unhappy lot, filled with bitterness and a sense of helplessness. They're not the children, poor and unloved.

Near us now, living in a home-made trailer that a mad carpenter might have put together, are a woman and seven children.

The father is in jail. The mother is out on bail. The children are in the streets.

They're a sad lot, but they're not the children, poor and unloved.

THE VOICE OF ONE Religious Education Lack Is Lamented

Wartime Rules Return From Korean Situation

By RAYMOND H. WILSON

Exclusive to The Bulletin

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(UP)—Some wartime regulations are creeping back as an outgrowth of the Korean war.

The latest was announced by Commercial Airlines. They recalled passengers by "Young" flights personnel to make room for military personnel, but said they did not plan to use the authority for the moment.

Victims' passes are needed once again to enter many military reservations.

Security regulations at the capital building in Washington have been tightened, with shorter visiting hours and more guards.

Speakers for the National Security Resources Board said these security steps are not the foreboding World War II runners of more rigid civil regulations such as rationing of scarce foods or commodities.

They pointed out that President Truman does not have authority now to impose rationing. His wartime powers have expired and Congress would have to renew them.

These spokesmen conceded however, that Mr. Truman, if caught in a tight spot, might order rationing immediately and then ask Congress to back him up with the necessary authority. But they added that he can foresee no such emergency now.

The Civil Aeronautics Board granted the airlines permission to weave into their operation previously the "bumping" plan used during security steps are not the foreboding World War II

HIGH ON A WINDY HILL overlooking the Saskatchewan River Valley, Mrs. William Jackson proudly shows Edmonton's scenic wonders to her children Roger and Catherine. Visiting here with parents Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilson, family trio will return to their Quebec City home later this summer.

MOTHER'S LITTLE BUNDLE O' JOY

Edmonton Stretches Welcome Mat for Old and New Friends

Edmonton's welcome mat has a sunbiny face for visitors this summer season.

An especially warm greeting goes to former residents of the city who are renewing acquaintances and re-hashing "days back when."

Mary and Fred Astle, the skating team, are home with parents Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Heston and Mrs. W. W. Astle. They're due back in Springfield, Ill., in another week.

Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Bradley arrived recently to spend a leisurely few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Bounds. Bradleys brought their children Leslie Anne and Bill from their Toronto home.

Young Gregory O'Laughlin was happy as a little clam to visit his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clooney. Gregory arrived with his mother, Mrs. Francis O'Laughlin from Geneva, N.Y. She is the former Steeleigh Clooney.

Rose Norrington took time off from her interesting job in the British Embassy in Washington, D.C., to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Norrington.

Bright-smiled Doris Tanner, whose engagement was announced this week, arrived from Washington to visit mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tanner. Mr. and Mrs. Ian Bain stopped in Edmonton to visit Mrs. Bain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barker, recently.

CALGARY COUSINS HAVE HOLIDAY HERE

EDMONTONIAN June Matheson, home from the States, found that she welcomed her Calgary cousins Patricia, left, and Joyce Power, right. The three girls have just returned from a vacation in the States. The girls will be in the city for a short time before returning to their homes.

SCOTS' WHA' HAE FROM HIGHLANDS COME ACROSS SEAS TO VISIT IN EDMONTON

PRETTY SUMMER FLOWER FRAMED AT GARDEN GATE

PLAY-TIME IS WORK TIME for Peggy Newland while home for summer months. Instead of resting after her winter's skating schedule with a United States major ice-show, Peggy is busy tending to little people as a recreation commission playground supervisor. She's still in the "between" in between state of mind about returning to skating in fall.

Margaret Roski Becomes Bride

CLINTON, July 8.—Of interest here, was the wedding of Miss Margaret Roski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roski, to Edward Anthony Hahn, son of Mrs. H. Hahn, at Clinton.

Father Sullivan officiated at the morning ceremony in St. Patrick's Church.

Given in marriage by her father, bride was charming in finer length satin gown with lily point sleeves and net bodice. She carried a bouquet of deep red roses and white carnations. An oval pendant, gift of bridegroom, was hanging ornament.

Attending her sister in a row of broadened sheer and satin, was Miss Margaret Roski. Deep pink tulle completed her bouquet. Walter Hahn, nephew of bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Roski chose black floral crepe, with pink rose corsage for her daughter's wedding.

Immediate relatives were entertained at the bridegroom's home. Mrs. Hahn received in a dress of black crepe and cascade of pink roses. Three fitted wedding cake was eaten on the bride's room.

Following reception, friends gathered in evening good wishes and dance at the Community Hall.

Unmarried Mothers Shameless Says Vicar

KIDDERMINSTER, Worcester, Eng., July 8.—(U.P.)—Vicars are heard much too often to say that unmarried mothers are shameless. The vicar of Kidderminster, Mr. J. H. Hahn, said that he had never known a woman in that position to be ashamed of her position.

Non-Skid Paint Makes Home Safe

Ontario Product Will Resist
Chipping, Moisture, Stains

New "Traffic-Tred" paint made by Ontario firm is designed to remove danger of slipping on floors, ramps, stairs, etc. Comes in semitinted form, solvent evaporating after application to leave uniform granules, imbedded in base which is bonded to floor.

Said resistant to chipping, flaking, chemicals, moisture; said to stand wide temperature range.

Buffing, sanding, sanding can be eliminated with new application liquid paint remover, claims Pennsylvania firm.

However, be brushed on, left a few minutes, then paint is rubbed off with cloth. For use, sand and prime surface. It removes paint, lacquer, varnish, etc. from doors or windows that would need special sanding, etc. ordinarily, manufacturer states.

Said to need no neutralizing agent, evaporating to leave clean surface.

New plaster and mortar mixer by New Jersey company has six ft. capacity, runs at high speed, doesn't need special operator, weighs little, 180 lbs.

Will keep 30 men supplied with material, his bag cutter over which bag is broken, contents falling automatically into mixing drum; special lock prevents material from dumping material into bag.

New combination lawn sprayer and fertilizer or loading sprayer by Indiana maker has quartzite receptacle attached to otherwise portable water sprayer.

Water flows through sprayer from hose, resulting in atomized spray, but does not spray fertilizer or insecticide from receptacle.

HANDY HUSBANDS

Breadwinner Sometimes Becomes Bread Maker

The man of the house is not only the breadwinner but sometimes the bread maker, and frequently the chief cook and bottlewasher.

According to a survey made by the State Street Council among Chicago's married women, the typical Mr. Chicago is as handy about the house as he is in his office or factory, and the housewife often performs the most of the dish washing.

Sixty-nine per cent of the women interviewed said their husbands help them at home regularly. Only 35 per cent reported that their husbands don't lift a finger around the house. The men who prefer are dish washing, grocery shopping, child care, cleaning and laundry, in that order.

The survey also disclosed that today's Mr. Chicago values companionship with his husband as

ANNUAL CARE

Time Again To Overhaul Screen Doors

By Bob Schmitt

It is time again to bang your screen door and to hang time that should receive their annual care.

Before screens are hung, wash them thoroughly and check the condition of the frame joints. If the frame is coming apart, strengthen the joints by screwing small right-angle metal strips to the frame corners.

To prevent staining of the window frames and to preserve—over and over—then wash with benzine or turpentine to remove all rust and corrosion.

Small holes in the screen can be repaired simply with a patch of screening, placed over the hole and woven to the frame with a strand of wire. However, if the screening is badly broken or rusted, the only solution is to replace with new wire cloth.

To do this place the screen flat on a table. Pry up the moulding which holds the screening in place. Remove all the brads or tacks left in the frame of the screen.

After removing the old wire, cut a new piece of non-corroding screening a little longer than the opening of the screen frame.

Start by tacking the screening down at the top of the frame. Then stretch it tightly and evenly, and tack the bottom edge down. Keep the wires of the screening straight with the slope of the frame. Now tack one side down and then the other side.

Result: the moulding back with three-quarter-inch or one-inch brads. Touch up the frame with paint, or repaint the whole frame.

GARBAGE CAN IS PROTECTED WITH EASE

Have you considered a box or bin for those unsightly garbage cans?

Maybe yours are placed cleverly behind a hedge, but they're still not things of beauty, are they?

Then why not whip up a strong, rugged container for them all, paint it any color you like, and that neat look you long for will be yours in a few hours.

Just make a plain box of plywood for instance, about four or five feet long and about three feet deep. High enough to take the garbage cans easily. Give it a slanting top and there you are.

You'll feel all the dogs in the neighborhood when they start playing their favorite game of nosing in and upsetting the garbage.

LONDON. (CP)—Ownership of six houses was decided by lot after the death of Thomas Charles.

Charles had six children and six houses. In his will, he ordered a house for each child—three sons and three daughters—drawn from his list of paper out of a hat.

"We are all satisfied with the results," said Donald Charles, one of the sons.

The houses are worth about £300 ($2,480) each.

PLANS FOR BATHROOM SHOULD INCLUDE ALL

Much of the space in today's home is planned for the bathroom. Plans for the bathroom should include all the details of the room, from the tub to the toilet.

Clay tile walls and floors matching the rest of the fixtures make the room harmonious.

Towel bars in the bath, preferably one for each member of the family and one for guests, saves confusion and minor family crises.

A built-in vanity or counter surfaced with tile is a perfect spot for making up.

One of the most satisfactory is clay tile, it is also clean and durable.

Houses For Sale (78)
OWNER TRANSFERRED NORWOOD
Priced at $8,750

Here is a real-estate bargain, we think. It is a 10-year-old bungalow, well maintained, on a fully improved lot and garage. The plan consists of a kitchen, living room, dining room, bathroom, and two bedrooms. It is priced at $8,750, a real-estate bargain.

Score Moral Victory During Losing Battle For Chonan

By Robert C. Miller

United Press Staff Correspondent

WITH THE U.S. ARMY AT THE KOREAN FRONT, July 8.—(UP)—We lost the rail center of Chonan, 36 miles north of Taejon, to the Communists today, but only because the American command decided it wasn't worth the price to hold it.

The withdrawal was ordered after a stubborn, bloody battle in which the Americans for the first time forced Communist armor to retreat. The commanders thought it wiser to consolidate American lines against infiltrating Communist infantrymen than to keep Chonan.

This American moral victory... was supposed to have been less costly had the Americans gone into battle prepared to meet an experienced, tough enemy.

There were two phases to the battle. The Americans were routed in the first phase and were in full retreat when their officers halted them. Then the GIs rallied and rolled forward again, forcing the Communist tanks to retreat. But after the Americans regained control of the city, they were killed by snipers.

Some Run In Panic

There were no ambulances to evacuate the wounded, and there were only the meagerest of communications between the embattled Yanks and the rear. But the Communists were enough to send the artillery fire from the rear all night that blasted the North Koreans as they never had before.

Twenty-four hours earlier, most of some American youngsters never had heard of First Field Army. Some ran in panic when they heard the first news of Communist attacks before nightfall, held the town all night and for the first time turned back Communist armor. There were dozens of heroes.

For instance, a sergeant who took two tanks with a bazooka, and the Ordville Tanker of Chon, in.

Face Own Artillery

"The roads into town were supposed to have been mined. They were not. The bridge was supposed to have been blown up. It wasn't."

"We looked them away and sent them back out to follow them up."

The unit caught more hell when it came out. Artillery fired into the soldiers as they trudged up the road. Several were casualties were added to the list.

"Operation Slap" as it has been known, began Friday. The Americans had withdrawn 30 miles in the two previous days to new positions south of Chonan. But a patrol sent out to make contact with the North Koreans reported that at least ten miles north of Chonan.

Headquarters of the First Army advanced and moved up the American line beyond Chonan.

By noon Friday, the infantry had

Yanks Flee To Rear

Until then, the war for most of them was a lark. But with rifle fire crackling about their ears and mortar shells bursting in their positions they halted.

They fled with fear in their eyes and panic in their bellies. Everything was confusion. There was inadequate communication.

One officer gave orders to unload from Jeeps and set up a defense line. Another would cancel it and order Jeeps loaded with men and sent to the rear.

A vital bridge that was supposed to be blown up never was touched. Men who had gone forward only a few hours earlier refused to wear, most of them without ever firing a shot.

But the debacle stopped in the middle of Chonan.

Reds Blasted By Mortars

Chonan's defenses were organized hastily, although only a few weapons units were left to the rear.

The units commander spread his men out and awaited the attack. It came soon enough.

The North Koreans came down from the western flank and attempted to rush the town.

American heavy mortars took care of them. We were firing at visual range.

The orders were, "don't let them in. They didn't get in."

The main Communist attack came about 8 p.m. The North Kor-not think the advantage of holding the town was worth the price it would cost.

The outfit went into the town, boys, but they came out men.

Some didn't come out for the fighting was fierce, with a heavy weapons outfit fighting tanks and heavy weapons.

The Americans played a hide and seek game for three hours this morning against enemy tanks. Their new commander officer was killed by a tank burst that blew off his head. Others were killed by infiltrating snipers.

who drove a truck loaded with dynamite into town, then skillfully dodged a tank and escaped.

The Red jacket told how the Americans fought.

"We could have held them," he said. "We had them licked. But we pulled back because we didn't want to see some more help or sent in some tanks, we could have been the last to see."

The night wasn't too bad. The artillery was laying them in right on the line and their losses must have been heavy.

"But we didn't expect tanks. They ran up and down streets and blasted us whenever we showed ourselves."

Officials Visiting Jasper Hear Northern Route Pleas

By BILL BELL

Bulletin Staff Writer

JASPER, July 8.—The Yellowhead Pass route from Edmonton through Jasper is not a dead issue, despite the choice of a southern route by federal and provincial governments.

Rallying their forces, backed by the Jasper Chamber of Commerce and the Yellowhead route committee are taking advantage of the presence of Ottawa brass here for the opening of the recreational center to stress the advantages of the northern route.

R. H. Winters, minister of resources and development, has been invited by officials of the chamber of commerce to take a short trip over the proposed route out of Jasper Saturday morning.

Other Ottawa government officials and MPs who are here and are being canvassed on their reactions to the proposed route are Senator James A. Macdonald, A. Fred Macdonald, MP, Edmonton East, George Prud'homme, MP, Edmonton West and G. M. Murray, MP, Fort St. John.

MANNING QUOTED
A brief prepared for presentation to the minister today it will quote statements made by Premier Manning in a recent conference with a committee for the Yellowhead Route Association.

In that statement, not previously released, Premier Manning said he "did not believe the federal government was particularly anxious to build the highway at this time and he did not want to give them any opportunity to delay the issue any longer."

Officially it has been learned Mr. Winters was on an inspection trip over part of the highway west of Jasper, part of which is proposed for the Yellowhead Pass route, and was impressed by the scenic possibilities and attractions of the highway.

Previously, Senator Macdonald said he feels the Yellowhead route is the best way to the Pacific Coast and feels confident that opening the Yellowhead route to the highway.

He nodded his head to the north. Opening of the new recreation center has drawn a capacity crowd of tourists to Jasper, with all hotels and auto camps packed to capacity.

He opened a small store, but supplies were not always on hand and he had to get them by car from River. Que Barre, 30 miles away, or from Edmonton 65 miles distant.

Active up till the time of his retirement in 1948, Mr. Redwood delighted in telling how he used to sleep in the wagon in 40 below weather. His wife predeceased him in 1947. He is survived by a son at home, another son in Edmonton and a daughter in British Columbia.

He was buried near his early home in Sion cemetery.

STETTLIN—Largest number attending any one clinic in history was recorded Tuesday and Wednesday in the United Church basement when 228 blood donors were registered by the Red Cross.

The HOPE had previously made a house-to-house canvass to stimulate interest for more blood donors.
